

Health Europa Quarterly - Green Policy

Health Europa Quarterly acknowledges its environmental responsibilities and is committed to contributing to the reduction of local, national, and global environmental damage. This environmental policy sets out the actions that Health Europa Quarterly is taking to reduce the environmental impact of its activities and promote environmental good practice. As part of this policy, Health Europa Quarterly strives to:

- Reduce deforestation by switching to a digital only format for its publications
- Conserve energy and give preference to renewable sources of energy and materials wherever reasonably practicable
- Comply with applicable legal requirements and regulations that relate to its impact on the environment and environmental aspects
- Raise awareness, and encourage participation in environmental matters
- Assist, wherever reasonably practicable, in the development of solutions to environmental problems in the publishing industry
- Encourage staff to use green methods of transport, wherever reasonably practicable
- Maintain appropriate environmental policies, procedures, and systems
- Minimise waste by aiming to reduce consumption and pollution through effective waste-management and recycling procedures
- Do as much as it reasonably can to reduce pollution
- Encourage suppliers to pursue good environmental practice

This policy is implemented in accordance with the requirements of the Health Europa Quarterly Green Policy. Health Europa Quarterly is committed to minimising the impact of its operations on the environment, including its use of energy. Health Europa Quarterly's aim is to improve the energy efficiency of its operations to reduce emissions of CO<sub>2</sub> and minimise its contribution to climate change.
